I will lecture on the required readings (denoted by *); each of you will present one of the optional readings. Presentation papers and dates (last three classes) are assigned on a first come, first served basis. Also write a (pretend) referee report on an unpublished working paper covering a topic related to material from this course. Your grade in this course will be based on: a referee report 20%, a presentation 30%, and a final exam 50%. I will distribute instructions for the referee report and presentation, as well as sample exam questions. If you do not plan to take the field exam in International Economics, you may write a research paper instead of the final exam (you may take an incomplete and to turn in your paper later).

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal anti-discrimination statute that provides comprehensive civil rights protection for persons with disabilities. Among other things, this legislation requires that all students with disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides for reasonable accommodation of their disabilities. If you believe you have a disability requiring accommodation, please contact the Department of Student Life/Services for Students with Disabilities in Cain Hall. Their phone number is 845-1637.
